Blood cancers can affect anyone of any age with leukemia being the most common form of cancer in children. No child should have to fight for their life before it even began. With your help, we can increase survival rates and help find a cure for blood cancers!

Join the fight to end blood cancers!

The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society of Canada is dedicated to supporting patients at any stage of their cancer journey; providing information and vital support services. The money raised will also go to the most promising blood cancer research taking place at cancer centres across Canada.
